Raps U. S. 'Spy School'

TOKYO.—A Socialist legislator accused the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency of secretly operating an Asian spy school at an American naval base in Japan for the past 10 years.

The U. S. Embassy immediately denied the charge by Ichio Asakata, a member of the Japanese Diet (Parliament), labeling it "a complete fabrication."

Asakata said the CIA trained Chinese and Korean agents at a school on the U. S. Atsugi Naval Air Station, 40 miles southwest of here, and upon graduation the spies were parachuted into Red China with portable radio transmitters to send back intelligence reports to the CIA.
